Thanks, But No Thanks!

Aruba & Curaçao is returning the more than 80 physicians and health care providers who had come to the islands from The United States of America earlier this week. The reason for this is that a healthcare provider within the group has tested positive for corona.

The care providers are paid by the Netherlands. The decision to return them was made in consultation with the Netherlands, according to the Curaçao Minister of Health, Suzanne Camelia-Römer. The medical personnel who have been sent to Aruba, more than twenty men, will also be returned. They were on the same plane as the "Curaçao" group.

The female healthcare provider had already tested positive in early April, but no longer showed any symptoms. Before the flight she was tested again, but she took the plane without waiting for the test results. That test again proved positive.

The health care workers work for an American agency that provides medical service abroad. The Netherlands has supplied medical equipment for the corona control to the Caribbean countries of the Kingdom. This group also took care of employees who would stay on the islands for a minimum of 45 and a maximum of 90 days. Before that, they had to be quarantined for 14 days..

Aruban Ministers To Cut Salaries By 20%.

ORANJESTAD (ANP) - The Aruban government will reduce the salaries of all ministers by 20 percent immediately until the end of the year. Civil servant salaries are cut by a total of 12.6 percent. In addition, no one in the public service may earn more than 130 percent of the salary of the Prime Minister, the so-called beams standard, which is called "Weaver-Croesnorm" in Aruba.

Aruba has consulted with all unions in recent days, a majority support the plans. The country has hardly any money left due to the corona crisis. Government revenues have fallen by 80 percent and it remains to be seen how long it will still be able to pay out health care, pensions and civil servants' salaries.

In early April, Aruba received a loan of 42.8 million Aruban florins (over 21 million euros) from the Netherlands, while it hoped for a gift of 400 million Aruban florins (200 million euros). In a letter to the unions, Prime Minister Evelyn Wever-Croes writes that the Netherlands first demands a sobriety action from the government before Aruba can qualify for a new "soft loan". In addition, it is also looking for opportunities to borrow money in America..

Government Order Police To Confiscate Articles From Persons On The Beach!

For some reason persons are still going to the beach and forgetting that we are still in a state of emergency due to this Corona Virus. Well the government has ordered the police to breakup any beach gatherings, and to confiscate all their belongings like chairs, ice jugs and more, and if the persons does not abide by these rules to leave the beach, they would be taken into custody. This action has been started down town, and will continue all the way to San Nicolas.
